DECLARE REVIVING BUSINESS

Clearings this week... $678,079
Clearings last week... $625,518

The weather of the past ten days has operated to retard retail business, but notwithstanding this, conditions seem to indicate a good season ahead. All the spring openings of the prominent Broadway stores will be held next week, which should stimulate trade considerably.

Local architects are authority for the statement that more building will be done in Paducah this year than any year since the big year of 1906. Plans for work now in their hands will run nearly a half million dollars. What they are won't be divulged for some weeks, but their construction is an absolute fact.

Real estate men report a noticeable increase in their business. The market seems to be opening up nicely and more inquiries for property are being made now than at any time in two years.

Local wholesalers report very good business, with collections improving nicely. General reports from the country are of improved conditions, the best evidence of this sort being found in the increases being made in gross and net earnings by all the big railroads.

SAME SIZE

SHOULD BE ALL SEWER CONNECTIONS IN DISTRICT.

Mr. Puryear Instructed to Incorporate This in Revision of City Ordinances.

An ordinance compelling all property owners in sewer district No. 2 to connect to the sewer with an outlet pipe of uniform size was favored last night by the joint sewer and hospital committee, and City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., was instructed to bring in an ordinance before the general council. Some of the lots are connected with such small pipes that they clog easily and this trouble will be avoided.

Attorney E. H. Puryear, who is making a code of the city ordinances, was instructed to place the name of the sewer inspector in place of the city engineer in an ordinance, and also to include the size of the outlet pipes in the book. It was recommended that all ordinances, relating to sewer work, be published in a separate pamphlet in order that the plumbers may not have any excuse to violate the ordinances.

Those present at the meeting of the committee last night were: Alder men Stewart, Potter and Sherrill and Councilmen Hannan and Wanner.

Mr. Browne McMahon Here.

Mr. Browne L. McMahon, a former Paducah citizen and old newspaper man, is on a ten days' visit to his brother, Mr. R. A. McMahon, 1622 South Sixth street. Mr. McMahon has been in Texas and other western states for the last 30 years following the railway business.

Going to Petros?

Mrs. M. Hillman Taylor and Mrs. Campbell Fletcher leave this evening for Petros to visit their sister, Mrs. George St. John for ten days, and Mrs. Taylor will stop in Nashville for a few days en route to Trenton. Mr. Taylor may join her in Petros during her stay. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were called to Trenton two weeks ago by the death of Mr. Taylor's grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Ivie. Nashville Banner.

Suit on License

The suit by the state revenue agent against James Segenfelder is for a skunking rink license, not druggist's license. Mr. Segenfelder declares he paid the money and has a receipt for it, but never was given the license by the county clerk.

Late Telegrams.

STRIKERS' DEMANDS.

Paris, March 20.—Strikers today declare they will not return to work until the director of posts and telegraph, Sinyan, was dismissed, this was their statement. Premier Clemenceau and Sinyan remain in office and the strike situation is deadlocked today. Strikers are frightened by the union's promised attitude toward the government.

Strikers are cutting wires outside of Paris today. Only enough remain to permit the government to carry on foreign negotiations. Lines are now being patrolled by troops. King Edward, at Biarritz, hasn't received mail or telegrams since Tuesday. A corps of special messengers is organized to deliver his mail and spare the royal guest inconvenience.

SOCIALISTS' REPLY.

Chicago, March 20.—Colonel Roosevelt's attack on Socialism in the Outlook will be answered by the Socialist party. One says Roosevelt is unfamiliar with the socialist principles and the authorities he quotes. Socialist leaders declare, are not recognized by them.

PRESIDENT BACK.

Washington, March 20.—President Taft returned from New York today in the private car Constitution, attached to the regular train. A crowd of passengers at the station cheered him.

BANK ROBBERS.

Moosene, Iowa, March 20.—Cracksmen last night robbed the First National bank and escaped with a sum estimated at between $1,000 and $10,000. It is believed they escaped by train.

ANTHRACITE.

New York, March 20.—According to prominent operators work in the anthracite field will be suspended April 1 whether there is a strike or not. This action is not intended to tie up the field indefinitely.

STOCKINGS? SHOCKING!

Chicago, Ill., March 20.—Chicago club women have begun a fight on the increase cost of stockings tied by the increased tariff. They will ask the aid of the national federation in the movement. The first step is to be taken at San Antonio when the general council of the federation of women's clubs meets next week.

BURGERS ESCAPE.

San Francisco, March 20.—Burglars early today dynamited two safes and looted the cash registers at the Six Mile road house just across the Sumner county line and escaped with a large sum of cash, after a running revolver battle. A posse is pursuing.

Stole Roommates' Clothes.

Charged with petit larceny, J. E. Boyce was held over this morning in police court. Boyce pleaded guilty to stealing a suit case from J. McAdams, and when arrested by Patrolmen Gourleux and Hice, had on the stolen clothes. He stayed all night in a boarding house on South Fourth street and early Friday morning is alleged to have skipped out with the suit case of a roommate.

FATHER SAYS NO TRACE OF HIS BOY HAS BEEN FOUND

Sharon, Pa., March 20.—In the longest statement he has given out since his son, Billy, was kidnapped, Attorney Whitla denied today that any trace has been found of the child. "I know less than I did last night, when I thought they had the child in Cleveland," he said.

Uncle Ready to Aid.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 20.—Frank Buhl, millionaire uncle of Billie Whitla, is in Cleveland today ready to aid in the search for the boy. He has cash unlimited and he says no amount is too big to pay for the return of the lad. Catching the kidnaper is a matter of secondary interest, he says.

Chicago Police Active.

Chicago, March 20.—Failure of the Pennsylvania police to locate the kidnapers of Billy Whitla, caused the chief of police here to order squads of detectives at the stations doubled. Descriptions of the supposed kidnapers and photographs of the boy were given the officers in all parts of the city.

Tax on Insurance is Questioned by Some Congressmen and All Are Prepared to Tear Measure to Bits

Democrats Favor Ironclad Caucus Agreement and Will Issue an Address to People on Subject of Rules.

Washington, March 20.—Among the members of the house today the question has arisen whether the insurance tax applies to life insurance. They say no specific reference is made to it. Many are of the opinion that insurance ought not be included in the taxables.

The opposition to the Payne tariff bill is crystallizing about the maximum and minimum plan and against this, the fight is to be made in the house. The leaders, including Payne and Speaker Cannon, are backing up this feature by pointing out that it was authorized and endorsed by the Republican national platform, and has the approval of President Taft. It will be maintained in the house under the party whip and by caucus pledge, if necessary.

Objection to it is based on the ground that it has so involved tariff legislation, that not even the experts can tell exactly at this time what the effect of the proposed legislation may be. Tariff men in the department of commerce and labor are working on the Payne bill and promise to have it out in a few days with a full explanation of the workings of the maximum and minimum feature of the bill, what foreign countries are affected, the import and export prices influenced, and in what way.

Pending this report members of the house will delay the formation of combinations to bring about changes in the bill. It is admitted generally that the bill cannot pass congress in its present shape, and that much will have to be done to clear it up.

Senator Cummins, of Iowa, said that the bill was but a temporary measure and patchwork at best. It will be left to the senate to frame up and equalize. Following this line there has been much talk to the effect that the published bill had been given forth for the purpose of testing the sentiment of the country, and that many changes of major importance are to be made in the perfected bill, to be presented to President Taft for his approval.

Perkins, of New York, says that the bill must be thrown open to general debate, and amendment in the house. He will not stand for gag rules to push it through without consideration as was done with the Dingey bill, and that he knows of at least sixty other Republicans who will stand with him in this demand. Speaker Cannon and Mr. Payne hope to get the bill through the house early in April.

Mr. Perkins says he has no objection to this program, provided it does not conflict with general discussion and opportunity for free amendment of all the important schedules.

Democrats Hold Meeting.
The Democratic members of the ways and means committee met today and began consideration of the Payne tariff bill and prepared for the contest on the floor of the house. Nothing of a definite character was agreed to at today's meeting.

No restriction has been placed upon the Republican members of the committee which would prevent them from offering amendments to the bill, although the measure represents the views of the majority of the Republicans on the tariff framing committee.

Address on Rules.
An address to the American people is being prepared by the Democrats of the house, setting forth the position of the minority party on rules of the house. This address probably will be presented to the caucus called for Monday night and is being prepared by the committee of fifteen appointed to draft new rules to govern future caucuses of the party. This committee met today.

There is seemingly unanimity in regard to the new rules to be drafted for future deliberations of the minority party. The plan regarded with the most favor is to make every caucus action, supported by two-thirds of the minority members of the house binding upon every Democratic member, whether present or absent, provided he does not notify the caucus in writing of his intention to vote otherwise than the caucus directs, or has not made a pledge during the campaign for election to vote otherwise.

Another exception is made regarding cases in which constitutional questions are involved.

Fight on Tabriz.

London, March 20.—A telegram received from Tabriz says revolutionists defeated the Shah's troops in a battle near Tabriz. The loss of life was heavy.

The body will be taken to Alto tonight on the 6 o'clock train and the burial will take place tomorrow morning.

QUARRY AT CEDAR BLUFF TO RUN FULL CAPACITY.

The large rock quarry at Cedar Bluff will be opened Monday with a full force of men. The quarry has been closed several weeks during the dull season, and the plant has been given a thorough overhauling. The Illinois Central railroad will begin work of ballasting track and the large quarry will be worked to its capacity during the summer months.

TAG DAY PROVES A GREAT SUCCESS IN SPITE OF BAD WEATHER AFTER NOON

Tag Day dawned grey and cloudy this morning, and the sun refused to shine, but the sale of tags went on merrily, and few were the pedestrians who did not wear tags. The supply of tags melted away rapidly, and before noon a rush order was given for the printing of 2,000 extra tags. The young women with tags for sale were out on the streets early this morning.

The day was a repetition of the first Tag Day, although rain did not fall this morning and interfere with the sale. The workers were busy as usual and the public responded generously. Several tags were sold for $5 and many for $1, although the majority were disposed of at the nominal price of 10 cents. The Daughters of the Confederacy were encouraged at the sale of the tags, and it is estimated that $600 will be taken in today for the Confederate monument in Lang park.

Tag Day Incidents.

Tag Day abounds in human interest stories, if the taggers could just stop tagging long enough to tell their experiences.

One young woman, the daughter of a prominent Confederate veteran, was accosted early by an elderly man who paid her $5 for a tag. She felt a desire to know so generous a donor, and asked his name. He had started away but came back and turning the lapel of his coat showed a Grand Army button. "I fought the Confederates," he said, "but they were brave men, and I want to have a share in this monument to their honor."

A well known gentleman met an early tagger this morning before she had equipped herself with the munitions of war. "I would willingly give $2.50 for a tag, if you had one with you," he gallantly assured her. She expressed regret and passed on, but stopped at the nearest tag station, secured a tag and returning found him where she left him. He wears the tag and she has the $2.50. But it's dollars to doughnuts that he will be more wary hereafter.

Mr. Van O. Burnett, formerly of Paducah, has accepted a position in Cairo.

Mr. Hart is a popular baseball pitcher and last year played in the Blue Grass league.

ROADS TO OPEN FIGHT.

To Secure Repeal of Two Cent Fare in Illinois.

St. Louis, March 20.—The executive and legal representatives of the railroads operating in Missouri said today they will immediately take steps to attack, at law, the two cent passenger fare laws of Illinois and Iowa and to urge similar contests which are now pending in Kansas, Nebraska and Minnesota, as well as to present a strong front in the Arkansas legislature.

The railroad officials said that at the recent conference in Chicago when they concluded to restore the rate of three cents a mile in Missouri, they also decided to fight the two cent rate case in other states mentioned.

The two cent rate is under suspension in Arkansas through a temporary injunction.

AUTOMOBILE FIGURES IN CIRCUIT COURT CASE.

An automobile was involved in a suit filed in circuit court today by Mrs. H. E. Andrews against C. H. King, the First National bank, Foreman Brothers' Electric company, C. H. Sherrill and Sheriff John W. Ogilvie. In her petition Mrs. Andrews alleges she loaned C. H. King $300 July 18, 1908, for the purchase of an automobile and that the sum was used to make the first payment. Other debts are said to have been made and the automobile given as security and that the First National bank, C. H. Sherrill and Foreman Brothers' Electric company were going to sell the machine and not respect her claim. She asked for an injunction to prevent Sheriff Ogilvie from selling the machine. Judge Reed set March 26 for hearing the motion.

The Rev. T. B. O'Loughlin, of Rolla, Mo., spent Thursday with Mrs. J. H. Lindenfeld, 411 Clay street.

COOPERS ARE GIVEN TWENTY YEARS IN THE PENITENTIARY FOR MURDER OF CARMACK

Murder in Second Degree is Verdict of Jury, Which Acquitted Sharp Yesterday.

SCENE DURING LAST SESSION OF FAMOUS TRIAL IN NASHVILLE CIRCUIT COURT THIS MORNING.

Father and Son Held Jointly and Equally Guilty of Assassination of Tennessee Editor.

Nashville, March 20.—Both the Coopers were found guilty of murder in the second degree for the killing of Edward Carmack, and punishment fixed at 20 years in the penitentiary. They are released on bail, pending appeal.

The jury decided last evening to report, but Judge Hart refused to reconvene court and told them to go to bed until morning.

Though every effort was taken to guard the room the fact is believed to have leaked out and it is thought the Coopers had an intimation of what the verdict was. Eighteen ballots were taken.

Five at first voted for murder in the first degree, one for acquittal and six for murder in the second degree. Then the vote shifted to eleven for murder in the second degree and one for acquittal. Finally Juror Hydes, who voted for acquittal, agreed to vote for conviction.

There was some discussion over the sentence. When the verdict was reported Judge Hart overruled a motion to set aside the verdict on the ground that today's verdict is contrary to yesterday's. He said yesterday's report was not a verdict so far as the Coopers were concerned. Then he granted a motion to admit the Coopers to bail. Both were set free this afternoon.

It developed after the jury was discharged the following voted at first for first degree murder: Howe, Burke, Berryman, Vaughan and McPherson. Hydes was for acquittal. The others were for second degree murder.

Before court convened this morning the sheriff announced that the jury was ready to come in with a further report. As soon as court opened the jury was brought in and pronounced the verdict, finding both Duncan and Robin Cooper guilty of murder in the second degree. Judge Hart immediately sentenced them to 20 years. The verdict will be appealed at once. The way was paved when attorneys for the defense yesterday asked that the exact words of the jury be recorded, when the foreman said as to the Coopers they were hopelessly tied. Attorneys will argue that the judge erred in not discharging the jury.

Pending the decision of the appeal, the Coopers will be allowed to go under $25,000 bail. Preparation for bail was begun at once. Attorney General McCann declared he was pleased with the verdict, which he took as a vindication of his methods in the trial. He said he was perfectly willing that bail be allowed until the supreme court passed on the validity of the conviction. He asked that his assistants be permitted to examine the bond, which the court allowed. Colonel Cooper and Robin sat carelessly at their attorneys' table while the sureties were being fixed. Apparently they took little interest in the proceedings. Robin is in bad health. It is reported he and his father will leave town soon for a rest and to permit the excitement caused by the trial to die down.

Register Plant Sold

An order was received today by Judge E. W. Bagby, referee in bankruptcy, from Judge Walter Evans, confirming the sale of the Register Newspaper company to E. J. Paxton. The sale stood confirmed on the failure of the bondholders to make a bond of $12,000 to insure a review of the case. The plant has been turned over formally to the new owner.

County School Board

The county school board was in session this morning, and appropriated $6,132.91 for the operation of the rural schools for next year. The board took up the discussion of selecting the location for the county high school this afternoon. Speeches were allowed to be made, but Arcadia seems to be the favorite location in the minds of the trustees.

DEPUTY MARSHAL GETS FIFTY MORE ALLEGED RIDERS

About 50 more defendants in the six night rider suits have been found by Elwood Neel, deputy United States marshal, who returned this morning from a trip through the Black Patch. The defendants are on the run, and Marshal Neel found them as hard to catch as deer. Marshal Neel has been known as the marshal who wore the light Stetson hat, but on this visit he played Sherlock Holmes and was attired in a black felt hat, and succeeded in slipping up on the defendants, but his presence in the community was learned and the word was quickly flashed to other defendants.

Crittenden Cases.

Marion, Ky., March 20.—(Special.)—All of the night rider cases due for trial at this term of the state circuit court have been postponed until next Wednesday. The two cases on the docket are the defendants for whipping Henry Bennett and burning the barn of A. H. Cardin at View.

There was no demonstration when the sentence was pronounced. The court room was only half filled. The great excitement of the past few days seems to have died down.

Miss Cora Richardson Honor Guest in California.

The San Bernardino Sun has the following notice of a pretty party in honor of a popular Paducah girl:

"Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Jones entertained a small company of friends last evening at their home, 210 South Mt. Vernon avenue, in honor of Miss Cora Richardson, a charming visitor from Paducah, Ky., who is enjoying a winter in California with her sister, Mrs. O. B. Jones. "Whist was played at four tables. St. Patrick's day appointments prevailing in decorations and favors, and assisting in making the evening very merry."

"The score cards were in the form of shamrocks, and the loes, which were a part of a dainty refreshment menu, were in the green also, tiny pipes being attached to the spoons as favors."

Woman Drowned?

At the police station this afternoon it was reported that a white woman's body had been found in Perkin's creek near its mouth. Nothing more could be learned as the woman who gave the alarm was excited and rang off without leaving any telephone number. Coroner Frank Baker went to the scene this afternoon to make an investigation. The mouth of Perkin's creek is about three miles from the city. Negroes are said to have discovered the body.

"I desire to say that I have found Peruna to be a wonderful remedy. I have only used it for a short time, and am thoroughly satisfied in regard to its merits. The Week In Society.

THE LINDEN TREE.

"I planted a linden tree today,
Hare and brown 'gainst a sky of gray
Its leafless branches are stretched
In prayer, Begging an alms of the sun and the air,
It is striking its roots in the breast
Of the earth.
Patiently awaiting the spring's new birth;
And down the aisles of the year to look,
I look and I find my linden tree,
Tall and leafy and flowered, fair;
For many a spring has answered its prayer.
'Tis a trying place for the lover and maid;
And children are playing beneath its shade.
Like gold-green censurs its blossoms
swing,
And birds come round it to build and sing.
Its leaves are a harp for the playing breeze;
Nectar is there for the murmuring
bees;
And a poet seeks it alone and apart,
With a song on his lips and a dream
in his heart.
These are things that shall one day be,
Because I have planted a linden tree."

A Linden Pastime.

If you think just because the Social Calendar for the coming week has only some club affairs, mostly literary at that, it is going to be a quiet, restful week, breathing the aroma of the sanctuary, the peace of Lent, it is just because you are a Mere Man and don't know anything about it. However, if you are, you will know better when the bliss begins to come in, and it does seem wantonly cruel to enlighten you beforehand, when ignorance is such bliss; so, if you are wise, you will not read this.
Next week, though, is Everybody's Millinery Opening—most, and each day of it will rival some swell social function. For the millinery parlors, darkened and lighted, fruit and flower bedecked, with orchestras playing, will present a color-scheme of vivid beauty and glow and will be crowded with lovely women in her most Directoire effects. Everybody and everything is so allm-looking now that more people can be there than could yesterday, you know. It will be a scene where every prospect pleases and only man—would not be worth while. Then, then, man is not in it with afternoon functions anyway, so he cannot feel left out—and may patiently bide the coming of Easter to see Her gorgeous hat.
The hats this year? Well, really they beggar description and to attempt it might bring an accusation that one is "seeing things", so improbable would it all sound. They are like that "light that was never on land or sea." They present a problem too, for when you first begin your survey, in awed silence from afar, the milliner artist tells you graciously but firmly, that you must have more hair—rats, puffs, curls, chignons, et al., before you may try one on. At last, when you are outfitted and are permitted to don the creation, you find it extends down over your ears and half-way down your back. All the glory of your crown of womanhood, your wonderful brand-new assortment of hair, is but a light hid under a bushel—basket truly. If you are accustomed to think, you will wonder why the hair galore was ever needed, ponder regretfully on the good money thrown away—and then meekly accept it as one of Fashion's vagaries, which certainly are without limit, rhyme, or reason these days. Why does not some bright person get out an "Injunction" to stop her until one catches up and rests awhile?

Beautiful Program for Evening Recital.

The Matinee Musical club will give a Two-Part recital on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the Woman's club house, for the benefit of the club. Two pianos will be used throughout in all the instrumental selections. The program is:
1. Unfinished symphony, Schubert—Mrs. Hart, Miss Reed.
2. Vocal solo, selected—Mrs. Lela Wende Lewis.
3. Slavonic dance, D'Vorak—Misses Dreyfus and Puryear.
4. Vocal solo, selected—Mrs. James Wells.
5. Valse Impromptu, Raff—Mrs. Hart, Misses Reed and Puryear.

conflict with other events, particularly the state convention of the U. D. C., to be held this year in Jackson, Tenn.

The convention of the U. D. C. is held the second week in May, according to the constitution of that body, and as the federation convention in Jackson two years ago conflicted with the state U. D. C. meeting in another city, it was deemed best for the federation dates to be changed this year.

PLANTING THE TREE.

"What do we plant when we plant the tree?
We plant the ship which will cross the sea.
We plant the mast to carry the sails,
We plant the planks to withstand the gales.
The keel, keelson, and beam and knee,
We plant the ship when we plant the tree,
What do we do when we plant the tree?
We plant the houses for you and for me;
We plant the rafters, the shingles, the floors,
We plant the studding, the lathes, the doors,
The beams, the sids, all parts that be;
We plant the house, when we plant the tree.
What do we plant when we plant the tree?
A thousand things that we daily see.
We plant the spire that out-towers the Craig,
We plant the steeple from which waves the flag;
We plant the shade from the hot sun free;
We plant all these when we plant the tree."

Paducah Woman Guest at San Antonio Party.

The San Antonio Express gives the following account of a luncheon at the St. Anthony, a swell hotel just opened there, at which Mrs. John R. Walker, formerly Miss Annie Street, of Paducah, was a guest:

"A beautiful luncheon was given yesterday at the St. Anthony hotel by Mrs. W. B. Lipe, Mrs. Lano Taylor and Mrs. Lon D. Cartwright.
"The table was adorned in a scheme of cerise and green. A large basket of cerise carmelions and ferns formed the centerpiece, and green-shaded candles were used effectively. A six-course luncheon was served.
"The season's brides were guests of the affair.
"Covers were laid for Mesdames Ferdinand P. Herf, Jr., George Sanders, of Pearisburg, Dick O. Terrell, Brooke Payne, Alec Fraser, D. Brock, of St. Louis, R. L. Ball, Harry Hyman, Carlos Lee, William Negley, T. H. Philfrey, H. J. Trolinger, John H. Walker, T. W. Campbell, George Gillette, William Aubrey, Felipe Anderson, Frank Paschal, Walter Sapier, Marshall Terrell, E. C. Tarrant, Edwin Paschal, L. J. Hart, Alec Walton, Henry Phelps, B. F. Stout, J. E. Harp, D. K. Furnish, W. B. Lipe, Taylor and Cartwright."

Parasols of India.

The new parasols are entirely new ideas and very attractive they are, too.

In all cases they carry out the same effect as this year's gowns. They are built on long lines and slimmness is the keynote. They are void of all fluff and frill.

Some of the handles are of extreme length, which can be carried only by tall, graceful women, who possess the art of managing them.

There are some new materials or combinations of material being used. India is one of these. On the edge it is fringed about four or five inches. The handles of these are very straight affairs of twisted raffia over a frame of wood. They are set here and there with colored crystals. These are stylish with tailored suits of natural colored linen on pongee.

There are some lovely parasols for afternoon wear of tulle of chiffon over silk. Those of flowered chiffon, the flowers of course being of a soft color over white satin are really lovely.

Then there are those of tulle, embroidered with garlands of flowers and made up over taffeta or satin, of white or a pale shade, to harmonize with the embroidery.

For these the handles must be in keeping. Carved ivory is perhaps the handsomest and with care lasts not one but several lifetimes.

Some of us are fortunate to resurrect quaint ones used by our grandmothers, and nothing could be more attractive.

This year's handles are all plain ones, with no curves or ornament on the top. There are pretty ones of Dresden china, but they are almost too perishable to consider.

Reposse silver ones, those of natural wood and wood enameled are in good taste.

One attractive black parasol is of satin, with a three-inch band coming not quite to the outer edge of the finest of segulins. This has a severely plain handle of ebony.—Louisville Post.

Reducing Flesh.

Whatever else fashion hints there is not the slightest rumor that flesh is to be stylish in the near future.

Therefore women who are not thin are keeping up all kinds of methods to make them so.

Live on noodles, is the cry. Consequently this diet is strictly kept by women who are willing to sacrifice anything to be thin.

The latest remedy, however, is to drink camomile tea without sugar, an hour after eating.

This is said to cure the most rebellious case, and turn one of barrel-shaped proportions into sylph-like lines.—Exchange.

(To a loved one, at rest.)

Tired, oh, so tired! Jesus,
Let me sink to heavenly rest;
Take me to thy gentle bosom,
Let me slumber on thy breast.

Though on earth so fondly sheltered,
Oft the ways were dark and long;
Dear ones ever quick to aid me,
Cheer with voices loving, strong;

Yet, when evening shades were falling,
With the world's great cares and sorrows,
And my heart cried out for rest.

Come my Savior, lead me gently;
I am tired, take me home;
Oh, thine arms open to receive me,
Father, joyfully I come.

Tired, yes so tired, Jesus,
But no more I'll cry for rest;
Safe within thy arms forever—
Sweet my slumbers on thy breast.

Safe within its sheltering haven,
I shall wait without a tear,
Till my loved ones come to join me;
Guard them, guide them to me here.

USES FOR WASTE WOOD.

Most Recent Have Origin in Demand For Alcohols and Acids.

Uncle Sam is concerned about the wilful waste of wood which seems predestined to create woful want. Millions of cords of wood is wasted every year in the forests and on the farm because this wood is not suitable for the various mechanical uses for which wood is employed. There are, however, numerous means of disposing of this waste. Aside from tanning and paper making, which are chemical industries that have been established for hundreds of years, there are other industrial uses of more recent origin which are of agricultural importance.

Important among these are destructive distillation, recovery of turpentine, resin, paper pulp, preparation of alcohols and manufacture of acids. These are growing industries because of a steadily increasing demand for wood alcohol, acetates, acetone, turpentine, charcoal, etc. which are utilized in other industries.

The crude products from distillation are chiefly four: gases, tar and oils, charcoal and acids. Methyl alcohol, acetates, acetone, charcoal, turpentine, wood, oil and oxalic acid are directly or indirectly obtained on a commercial scale from woods, and the yield is governed largely by specific gravity, weight and kind of wood as well as by the way in which the manufacturing process is carried on.—Chicago Tribune.

Nowhere else will you find show rooms teeming with so great a variety of authoritative styles, from the modest retiring to the impressively massive, this great stock is thoroughly representative. We offer you superb millinery, the Americanized adaptations of Parisian marvels from the work-rooms of the most famous milliners in the world. They are Paris inspired, but the products of New York City's foremost designers and Americanizers of exquisite foreign styles worked out with infinite variety, exquisite in the blending of colors, in the use of the new art shades, in the lovely manipulations of flowers and jet and rusty-toned metallic bandings. There never was a season when big hats were so light as now. Much more might be written, but after all descriptions of millinery are not half as satisfactory as seeing the hats themselves. So we earnestly invite you to an early viewing and a consideration of the charming models we are prepared to make for you, and at money-saving prices that no other retailer of millinery in Paducah is in a position to make you.

Daily Thought.

There is no grace in a benefit that sticks to the fingers.—Seneca.

The New Jersey assembly repealed

the law requiring peach baskets to be stamped, indicating their size. Manifestly in deference to the prevailing spring style.

As long as public opinion permits

the question, "was he justified?"

when one man kills another, violence will continue. When public opinion condemns every act of violent personal revenge, and confines its inquiries to the punishment the case deserves, violence will cease.

HARRIMAN.

Just about the time we begin to wonder whether there ever will be any end to the acquisitions of any one man, exasperated nature grabs him by the leg and pulls him away from his pursuits. How long will it be before people scratch their heads and struggle to recall something familiar in the name of E. H. Harriman? Mr.

Harriman has about reached that point, where he can recline in a steamer chair on his favorite yacht and inquire of himself what he has done to recompense himself for his exhausted vitality. It matters little that he controls more railroads than any other living man, if he has not operated them for the improvement of the public service; it matters not that his chief utility has been in the role of a human anvil, on which the sturdy blacksmith of the last administration hammered out and welded together a new system of public policy; it matters little that he is in close relationship with the strongest financial institutions in the country.

The question is, what would have been the condition of the country if

E. H. Harriman had never existed?

And what effect had his living and work on the world?

Mr. Harriman is a bigger man than most of us. More is expected of him.

He has had larger opportunities and larger responsibilities. If the world has been made better by his living;

if the means of communication have been made safer and more rapid and cheaper by reason of his manipulations; if he has opened up new places, made the desert to bloom and made life more pleasant, then he will find in the solitude of his yacht, a satisfaction in the reflection on his life's work, that will repay him for all the broken down tissues, which he is calling on nature and science to build up.

We must all come to this some day, if we are not struck down unexpectedly. That Harriman has carried on such magnificent operations, has withstood the mental and physical strain and can recuperate by a long rest, indicates a youth free from vice and excesses; but that is an animal virtue, which we must share with our four-footed friends, who never violate the laws of nature unless we drive them to it. We are accountable for more than merely keeping our bodies in a healthy state and "getting there."

-POLITICS AND LAWLESSNESS.

Excepting two glaring misstatements of existing conditions, the Memphis Commercial-Appeal speaks a sound truth in an editorial, of which, the part not tinged with partisanship, The Sun quotes. The Commercial-Appeal, let us preface, overlooks the important fact that lawlessness in Kentucky had practically ceased under military surveillance before the Reelfoot Lake murder, and that would never have occurred had Governor Patterson taken as vigorous steps as Governor Willson did, and, heeding the cry from Clarksville, sent soldiers to protect the citizens of his state, before the spirit of outlawry found its true expression in the assassination of Quentin Rankin. Governor Patterson was responsible for that murder.

Now we quote from the Commercial-Appeal:

"The night riders of Kentucky have resumed spring lawlessness by scraping tobacco beds in Christian county and by doing the same thing in the eastern end of the state.

"It is also reported that they are preparing for a season of lawlessness in Calloway county.

"It looks as if the torch, the shotgun and the mask will again be brought into play as evidences of their contempt for law.

"The state of Kentucky should put down these night riders and suppress this lawlessness, or go out of the business of self-government, surrender its charter and ask for an administrator.

"Tennessee caught the night-riding infection from Kentucky. To the north it spread from Kentucky into Ohio and Indiana.

"Politics and not the tobacco trust is responsible for the recrudescence of this devilry. The American Tobacco company was an industrial tyrant, remorseless and unfeeling, but the first night riding was not a fight against the tobacco trust, but a crime against the law.

"In the confusion, Kentucky politicians and officeholders were either too ignorant or too cowardly to draw a distinction for fear of being denounced as minions of the trust.

"They refused to condemn the night riders and failed to put down the machinery of the law into motion.

"The movement spread like a forest fire in October, and before the thoughtful and law-loving men were aroused this new-born species of lawlessness had become a favorite diversion.

"Half dozen men were caught finally and put on trial at Murray. There was no conviction.

"In Kentucky, politicians have been fighting over offices and the spoils of office, and in these fights they have played to the lawless elements for support.

"In Tennessee, many of our politicians have been carrying on a vendetta, and many of our officeholders and would-be officeholders are so eager in forwarding their own fortunes that they devote little time to duty, unless the discharge of duty will quickly lead to some personal benefit for themselves.

"Everybody talks for law and order until he is personally involved, and then he becomes a law to himself.

"Cases and issues are tried in courts, not upon their merits, but are pleaded and fought out along the political lines of the contending forces.

"Good men bewail the lack of respect there is for the law. The law is not in disrepute. The law is the same today as it was yesterday and it will be the same forever because it is founded upon a principle of exact justice, but the contempt is for many of those who are charged with administering it, and the lack of respect that men show is brought about because those who are charged with the administration of the law do not themselves command respect. Some are either lawless themselves or so inefficient that instead of holding up the arms of justice they tie their hands. Men in office talk much, but their effort for the law ends in talk."

Some stories

AROUND TOWN

One of the members of the teaching corps of the public schools was "stung" several days ago by one of her pupils in such a clever way that it was too good to keep, and the teacher told the story. One of her pupils, who, by the way, is a chap 12 years old, was looking on a piece of paper while the class was reciting. He had a piece of paper concealed in his hand and on it he had written the difficult part of the arithmetic lesson. The teacher confiscated the paper and delivered a warm lecture on the evil of cheating.

The next day the teacher was careful to watch the lad, and in a few minutes she saw the boy peeping. At once she surmised that he was up to his old trick, and the teacher walked to the rear of the room. Her eye was on the boy, and in a few minutes she had abundant evidence. She walked to the boy and snatched the paper and woman's curiosity lead her to read. And this is what was written in big letters: "STUNG."

A mother and her daughter were talking several days since about a young man who paid particular attention to the daughter. The career of the young man was inquired into. The mother asked: "Don't you find John rather rough?"

The daughter answered with a faint smile: "Yes, mama, and yet he says he shaves every day."

Something to Think About.

The fact that the three Trenton, (N. J.) papers that raised their prices have not lost a unit of their circulation ought to set a lot of publishers thinking.

THE SPECTATOR.

Weekly Comments on Things About Town.

"What funny things you see when you haven't got a gun." One day we read in the columns of The Sun that our superintendent of schools makes an eloquent plea before the county board not to establish a separate county high school, but send the children to the city high school—and the next day it is gravely announced that the condition of the High school is so congested that it seems necessary to scatter the seventh and eighth grades in several of the ward buildings, thereby abandoning the valuable department work. We have not enough room to properly take care of our own children in our own High school, but are bidding for one hundred more pupils from the county. If it is a law of physics that two bodies cannot be in the same place at the same time, how is this to be brought about? But The Spectator never was expert at figures. But what about the fifteen hundred children reported by the superintendent as being in the city but not in the city schools, and no place in the city schools to accommodate them if they should present themselves?

Now that the fashions in millinery demand that the women wear the waste-paper baskets in lieu of hats this year, where is a fellow to dump his monthly batch of bills when they come in on the first?

The old Seventh street station of the I. C. in Louisville burned this week. No tears shed for the old shed. But that reminds us of the snake that bit Bill Sykes. Bill and his family were the toughest of the tough. One day a big rattler bit him, and thinking he was about to die, he sent for the preacher and asked him to pray. And this is the prayer he prayed: "O Lord we thank Thee for sending this snake to bite Bill, and we hope Thou hast another snake and will send him to bite Jim, and enough snakes to go round the family, for that seems the only way to make them decent." Now The Spectator, as a law-abiding citizen, and peaceful withal, does not hope, or does not say so, that the wires may get crossed in our Union station as they did in Louisville and the old thing burned down, but he does wish some sort of a snake might bite some of our citizens, or some of the I. C. officials, that they might wake up to the fact that this so-called Union station is one of the disgrace to the town and to the road, and that they might be bitten hard enough to cause them to see that common sense, and business sense, and decency, demand that some redress be made to a long suffering traveling public.

DUN'S REVIEW.

New York, March 20.—Most tests by which trade activity is measured make favorable records. Reports from the principal cities are of a generally hopeful character, but the fact remains that there is still lacking buoyancy and readiness to make long commitments ahead, which are features of the trade situation entirely free from unsettling uncertainties.

The week has witnessed the introduction of the tariff bill making large cuts in the duties on iron and steel and other products, but apparently less apprehended this than from the possible failure of congress to heed the words of President Taft and get through with the tariff business as soon as possible.

Total Bank Clearings.

New York, March 20.—Total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet for the principal cities in the United States the past week $2,724,998,000 against $2,731,910,000 in the corresponding week last year.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Charming Art. Morning at Woman's Club.

A delightful meeting of the Art department of the Woman's club was held this morning at the club house. It was largely attended and the introduction of stereopticon slides illustrating the artists discussed was voted a charming innovation.

Mrs. Victor Voris, chairman of the department, presided graciously at the meeting. The four famous aural painters of the French school, Trynnet, Van Marcke, Rosa Bonheur and Jacques, were discussed in an attractive way by Mrs. John W. Little, Mrs. L. V. Armentrout, Miss Anna Bird Stewart and Mrs. Charles Grassham. In fact, the program was a notable one in itself without the stereopticon features. Portraits of the artists discussed and some of their most famous pictures were shown in connection with the papers. There were 28 slides in all and some of them were in color. Mr. Will B. Malone managed the stereopticon as a courtesy to the department. A large picture of Rosa Bonheur's "At the Fair" was loaned to the department by Mrs. Kate Craig, of the Hotel Craig.

An interesting talk was made at the close of the regular program by Miss E. A. O'Brien, of Jackson, Mich., who is the guest of her niece, Mrs. R. T. Lightfoot. Miss O'Brien is the sister of the United States ambassador to Japan and has traveled extensively. She is a woman of charm and culture. Other visitors present were: Mrs. Oscar L. Gregory and Miss Lillian Gregory, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Miss Grace Veatch, of Chicago, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. William L. Brainerd.

Mrs. J. F. Covington has returned from St. Louis and is the guest of Mrs. E. R. Cunningham, at Cochran apartments.

Miss Nell Caldwell, who has been visiting her brother, Mr. James Caldwell, 1516 Jefferson street, will leave tomorrow for her home in Glasgow. Miss Caldwell has just recovered from her attack of appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Denkins, 439 Adams street, left this morning for South Pittsburg, Tenn., on a visit to friends.

Mrs. Edmund P. Noble and Mrs. Harry G. Tandy returned last night from a several weeks' stay at the water resorts on the Gulf of Florida and southern cities.

Miss Mary Edna Martin, 1533 Jefferson street, will leave tonight for East parlie, Mo., on a visit to friends.

Thad Stevens was trying a case before a certain court in the wilds of Pennsylvania. The court had been unfair with his client, and he didn't like the ruling of the presiding judge. Another time the judge ruled against him; it was the last straw. He got up and began tying his papers into a neat bundle, as though about to quit the court room.

"Do I understand, Mr. Stevens," thundered the judge, "that you wish to show your contempt for this court?"

"On the other hand," replied Stevens, "I am trying to conceal it."—Philadelphia Record.

FOOD FOR A YEAR

Meats..... 300 lbs.
Milk..... 240 qts.
Butter..... 100 lbs.
Eggs..... 27 doz.
Vegetables..... 500 lbs.

This represents a fair ration for a man for one year.

But some people eat and eat and yet grow thinner. This means a defective digestion and unsuitable food. A one-dollar bottle of equals in nourishing properties ten pounds of meat. Your physician can tell you how it does it.

Strange Court Custom.

In the courts of Venice, when a prisoner is about to be condemned to death, a tall and ghostly looking individual, dressed in a long black gown, walks majestically to the center of the court room, bows solemnly to the judge, and in a cavernous voice pronounces the words "Remember the baker!" Then he bows again and stalks away. Three hundred years ago a baker was executed in Venice for a crime of which he was not guilty. When his innocence was established, the judges who condemned him gave a sum of money to the city, the interest on which was to be devoted to the setting up and perpetual burning of a lamp, known as the "lamp of expiation," in the palace of the dogs.—Indianapolis News.

An Indian Arrow.

Dr. Whipple, long bishop of Minnesota, was about to hold religious services at an Indian village in one of the Western states, and before going to the place of meeting asked the chief, who was his host, whether it was safe for him to leave his effects in the lodge. "Plenty safe," grinned the red man. "No white man in a hundred miles from here."—Argonaut.

S.S.S. RIDES THE SYSTEM OF CATARRH

Catarrh is a blood disease which causes a general inflammation of the inner linings or mucous membranes of the body. The diseasing of these delicate surfaces and tissues produces all the well known symptoms of the trouble, such as ringing noises in the head and ears, tight, stuffy feeling in the nose, pains above the eyes, irritation of the throat, sometimes slight fever, and a general feeling of weakness and ill health. Even the lungs become affected by the continual passage of impure blood through them, and there is danger of consumption if the disease is allowed to remain in the system. S. S. S. cures Catarrh because it purifies the blood. It goes into the circulation and removes every particle of the catarrhal matter, making this vital fluid pure, rich and healthy. Then the inflamed membranes begin to heal, every symptom disappears, the constitution is built up and health restored. S. S. S. rides the system of catarrh by attacking the trouble at its head and entirely removing the cause from the blood, thus making a permanent and lasting cure. S. S. S. is made entirely from health-giving roots, herbs and barks, and for this reason is an especially safe and desirable medicine. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free to all who write.

Angel Without Wings.
They were looking at the paintings in the art gallery.
"Alfred," said the young bride, "do you think angels really have wings?"
"No, Elfreda," answered the young husband. "The sweetest angel I know of isn't disguised with a pair of wings. I am happy to say."
In ecstatic silence they continued to look at the paintings.—Chicago Tribune.

Welcome Words To Women

If, you are an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true honest square-deal medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills. The makers of

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do, the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. Is this not a significant fact worthy of careful consideration?

Women use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in preference to all other advocated medicines sold by druggists for their peculiar weaknesses and ailments because it is

THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs, is not anything like advertised secret compounds or patent medicines.

THE ONE REMEDY for women devised by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in woman's ailments and carefully adapted to her delicate organism.

THE ONE REMEDY good enough that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on its outside bottle-wrapper.

It's foolish—often dangerous to be over-persuaded into accepting a secret nostrum in place of this time-proven medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

CITY OF THE INSANE.

Remarkable Place in Europe That Escapes Notice to Tourists.

One of the most remarkable places in Europe, of which no tourist on pleasure bent ever takes notice, says a writer in a Berlin paper, is the "City of the Insane," by which name Ghent, near Antwerp, has been known for generations. About 1,500 men and women afflicted with insanity in all forms, live there, and have a happy being as the "guests" of the inhabitants, who know by experience how to treat the unfortunate ones.

In the streets, in the places of amusement, the cafes and the workshops these patients may be found, and nowhere is there the remotest suggestion of restraint apparent. The board ranges from 240 to 240 marks a year, and, no matter how small the amount may be, the patient is always the favored member of the family.

The dangerous ones are sent to another settlement and to institutions. It is wonderful how considerate, careful and kind the simple people are toward their charges, and a peep into the community would probably terrify physicians who had never heard of and could not appreciate the good which is being done in this "City of the Insane."

A Wife at 60 Cents a Pound.
At Kolked, Hungary, the custom is that a bridegroom must pay the bride's parents a certain sum for the privilege of marrying their daughter.

Jan Kootvoos was engaged in a dispute with his daughter's parents as to the amount he should pay them, and the mayor was called upon to arbitrate. Being an expert in cattle, but not in women, the mayor decided the value of the girl should be estimated by weight, and thought that 60 cents a pound would be a fair price. After the girl's weight had been ascertained Kootvoos handed over the money and was soon married.—New York World.

It has been reported to the guards at Tuam, County Galway, Ireland, that a man named Hasty, whose age is alleged to be 120 years, is living at Gallow in a cabin which has become unsafe, and an effort is being made to induce the hermit to go into the workhouse.

Should the bid offered not be satisfactory, the tobacco can be offered the next day or at any other time thereafter.

It costs absolutely nothing to offer your tobacco unless bid is accepted, in which case we charge 15 cents per hundred pounds and 2 cents on the dollar.

FUSION TICKET IN LIVINGSTON

Independent Democrats and Republicans Unite.

Teachers and School Trustees Clash
Over Disciplining of the Young Man.

BODY OF AN INFANT IS FOUND

Smithland, Ky., March 20.—On the call of T. M. Davis, Republican county chairman, the Republican county executive committee met at the court house and there also met with them a large crowd of Republicans and Independent, or Mule Democrats, about 300 people in all.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. T. M. Davis, who in a few words stated the purpose of the meeting. The crowd then began calling out speaker after speaker and a warm response was always received.
After about an hour and a half of discussion the chairman announced that the Republican committee would withdraw and permit the Democrats to organize a committee. This was at once entered into by the Independent Democrats. Mr. J. M. Chaudet was elected temporary chairman and presided over the mass meeting. The following committee was perfected:

Independent Democratic—County
chairman, G. N. McGrew; county secretary, R. L. Culver; North Smith-land, H. T. Champion; South Smith-land, M. L. Powell; Iuka, H. A.
Yancey; Tiline, W. T. Ward; Panhandle, M. T. Barnes; South Salem, Albert Butler; North Salem, John R.
Farris; Hampton, H. E. Worton; Birdville, B. D. Jamerson; Carri-
ville, W. P. Holloman; Ray Spring, B. F. Trimble; Lola, Willis Champion.

Immediately after the election of the above committee, Mr. Davis was notified and called the Republican committee to hold a conference with the Democratic committee for the purpose of dividing the offices and fixing the date of the convention.
The offices are divided as follows:

Republicans—Circuit judge, commonwealth's attorney, county judge, county clerk, county superintendent, surveyor.

Democrats—Sheriff, circuit clerk, jailer, assessor, coroner, county attorney, representative.

Magistrates.
Republicans—Carrville, Iuka, Pan handle, Lola.

Democrats—Smithland, Salem,
Dyer Hill.

The date of the convention was set for Wednesday, May 5, 1909. The Democrats are to meet at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and the Republicans at 1 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day.

The question of forming a fusion ticket was submitted to a rising vote of the whole house and everybody rose in favor of it except three primary candidates in the back of the house.

The meeting was the most harmonious ever witnessed, especially when compared with Democratic conventions of the regular order.

Goes to New Mexico.

Mr. Hollis Rutter, of the Good Hope section, was aboard the Hoyne last Tuesday on his way to New Mexico. He is going to Roosevelt county, near Elida. Mr. J. W. Moreland, from New Mexico but formerly of this county, has been here on a visit and is returning home. Hollis decided to go with him.

Infant Body Found.

Workmen at the Vaughn landing, just below Tiline, found a small child in the Cumberland river. Squire Coffey was at once notified to go and hold an inquest. No clue leading to the identity of the child or the way it met its death has been found. It looks like a case of murder, but most likely did not occur in this county.
The child must have drifted there from up the river.

The child was a mere baby not supposed to weigh more than seven or eight pounds and without clothing.

Teachers Quit.

Unexpectedly Prof. T. C. Hutton, principal of the Smithland graded school, and O. R. Hurley, assistant teacher, handed their resignations to the school board. The disagreement between the teachers and trustees arose over the suspension of a pupil.
Last Thursday Professor Hutton and one of his large pupils had a difficulty and Professor Hutton sent the boy home and suspended him for a week. The board of trustees held exceptions and a meeting was held Friday night and Professor Hutton notified to come before it. Professors Hutton and Hurley went and a rather stormy session was held. The teach-

Office on one of the Queen's birth-stunned and medalled, came up and

CAIRO WINS

DEFEATS THE PADUCAH HIGH SCHOOL LADS 20 POINTS.

Cairo Bulletin Says Visitors Are All
Gentlemen and Made a Big Hit.

Paducah lads lost the basketball game to the Cairo High school team last night by a score of 27 to 7. Despite the fact the game was one-sided, the Paducah boys were in the fight until the last, and won praise from the Cairo fans by their pluck.
The Paducah players will return tonight. The Cairo Bulletin says:

"Before what was probably the largest audience that ever gathered in the Armory Hall the Cairo High school basketball team last night won from the Paducah High school team by a score of 27 to 7. The Cairo lads started off with a rush, and kept the pace to the end. The Kentuckians played their best and several times prevented the local forwards from making the basket. Few fouls were made, the game being clean throughout, and roughness was most conspicuous by its absence. Capt. But had his men on their toes all the time by his coaching, and the local rooters spurred their players on by their songs and rhythmic yells. The Paducah lads are gentlemen and put up a clean game, making a good impression on the spectators and the Cairo players. It is probable that the Cairo team will go to Paducah soon to play a return game with the Paducah High school."
